ABSTRACT

This book provides program descriptions and application procedures for 153 international internships and volunteer programs. Section 1 lists opportunities with 13 national and international government organizations and institutions, such as the Peace Corps and the World Bank. Section 2 lists 28 internships tied directly to a college credit-granting program, with accompanying study involved. Section 3 lists 64 internship opportunities with international or internationally-focused organizations that are not tied to an academic program, such as the American Friends Service Committee, Amnesty International, CARE, and TransAfrica. Section 4 lists 42 volunteer opportunities with private, non-profit organizations, such as Habitat for Humanity and Jesuit International Volunteers. Section 5 lists 6 miscellaneous opportunities that are not strictly internship or volunteer positions, but that may be of interest to those seeking international experience. Usually provided for each listing are a brief description of the program, a summary of requirements and application procedures, and an address and phone number. (MDM)
